

Out of all the Amateur Radio License restructuring plans the plan submitted by the FCC seems to make the most sense. Having just completed my theory and code exam to upgrade to General I would not want to see current Technicians receive an automatic upgrade. However I think they should be given the same no code HF privileges proposed for the Novice class.